LEGACY INFRASTRUCTURE MAP™

The Co.LLab: Building Leadership Infrastructure™

Build what can outlast you.

The Legacy Infrastructure Map™ helps leaders identify the knowledge, values, culture, leadership practices, and organizational strengths worth preserving—and create a path for carrying them forward.

STEP 1 — DEFINE YOUR LEGACY

What are you building?

Why does it matter?

What do you want your organization to be known for?

What should still exist because you built it?

PHASE I — FOUNDATIONS

What should never be lost?

Identify the foundational elements that define your organization.

Mission:

Vision:

Values:

Leadership principles:

Our legacy foundation:

PHASE II — INFRASTRUCTURE PLANNING & MANAGEMENT

What needs to become organizational?

Identify what currently depends on individual leaders.

Important knowledge:

Critical decisions:

Key responsibilities:

Important relationships:

What needs to be documented, structured, or transferred?

PHASE III — INTERNAL OPERATING SYSTEMS

How should your legacy show up every day?

Leadership behaviors we want to continue:

Cultural practices we want to preserve:

Communication practices we want to maintain:

How can these become part of the organization's infrastructure?

PHASE IV — PRESERVATION

What must continue?

Knowledge:

Organizational history:

How will we preserve it?

Who needs to be able to carry it forward?

THE LEGACY TRANSFER

CAPTURE

What needs to be preserved?

EMBED

Where will it live within the organization?

LEGACY

What remains because you built it?

THE LEGACY TEST

Ask yourself:

If I stepped away tomorrow, what would continue because I intentionally built the infrastructure?

What would disappear if I were no longer there?

What can I do now to make that knowledge, value, or practice transferable?
